All product entries can be viewed along Innovation Way in Aisle 2200.

"This year's entries were very focused on improving the boating experience," said Alan Wendt, chair of the judging panel, IBEX. "From solving simple issues with canvas, to more complex engineering challenges with hardware and composites, there is ample evidence of innovation underway in a thriving industry."

"Recognizing and encouraging innovation in our industry is what IBEX is all about," said Anne Dunbar, IBEX Show Director. "The winning products will positively impact boating forever, and it's very exciting. Congratulations to all the entrants for their dedication to product evolution."

Attendees of the Industry Breakfast were treated to a presentation from keynote speaker Rich Karlgaard, Forbes publisher and Global Futurist, Economic Leader, Entrepreneur and Author, who delivered an interesting and informative talk about the events changing the world and how they're impacting the marine industry. Preceding Karlgaard's keynote speech, NMMA President Thom Dammrich addressed the more than 750 marine professionals that attended the breakfast, discussing the future of the industry, with the theme Recreational Boating in 2035.

Tuesday's events include the opening of all three exhibitor floors; outdoor exhibits and demos; free Tech Talk workshops at the top of every hour beginning at 11 a.m.; an IBEX Special Session: Designing for Speed from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.; the Seminar Series from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.; and the g2k Emerging Marine Leaders Panel from 4:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Capping off the day is the Opening Night Party at The Sail Pavilion beginning at 6 p.m. Located just outside the convention center, attendees can spend the evening enjoying drink specials, live entertainment, and food trucks.
