BRAD BURTON LEADS NEW ALBIN PUMP MARINE US OFFICE

Albin Pump Marine, renowned Swedish manufacturer of high-quality marine components, has established a North American office and warehouse in Miami, Florida. Company director Olle Jonsson named Brad Burton as general manager to lead the new venture. The company makes its debut at the Miami International Boat Show, Feb. 15–19, booth F719.

The new North American presence is a response to the growing demand in the marketplace for a complete portfolio of marine pumping, heating and sanitation solutions, at a competitive price point. The move will provide superior logistics with expedited product fulfillment.

Well-known in the marine industry, Burton has over 30 years of sales management experience. Most recently, he was Thetford Marine's OEM sales manager. Prior, he held similar roles at Aqua Signal, Faria Marine Instruments and Guest Corp.

"We're experiencing dynamic growth in North America and are eager to have Brad at the helm of the US office," said Jonsson. "He's a respected industry insider that thoroughly understands our product line and has deep connections with OEMs across the country."

Since 1911, Albin has been building quality pumps. One of the world's largest boatbuilders in the 70s and 80s, it continues its strong marine legacy by providing reliable toilets, pumps, blowers, heaters and related equipment for OEM and aftermarket.
