“Boat Outfitters is delighted to join the MRAA as a partner member,” says Andrew Brown, Managing Director. “We continue to be committed to manufacturing high-quality marine accessories, replacement parts and custom solutions while maintaining affordable pricing. Partnering with the MRAA provides expertise and business solutions to enhance our operations as well as allowing us the opportunity to educate members on how we can help them better serve their customers and thus grow profits. We look forward to this beneficial relationship.”

Partner Membership lets marine manufacturers, suppliers and service providers align their brands with the MRAA programs, including training, education and other opportunities, and reach the dealer body fueling the success of the industry.
